

Germination and Emergence

Seedling reaches the surface in 8 to 12 days, at which time it splits open revealing the first leaves of the corn plant. Within approximately 72 days all leaves, ears, buds, and tassel which will be present in a mature plant are established.

(Number of days depends upon location, seed variety, weather, and other conditions.)