

TREES PROVIDE FUEL!

Energy from the sun is stored in trees; this means we can use wood as a fuel to create heat and electricity – called biomass.

In fact, the fuel that many paper and lumber mills use comes from wood waste and bark.