

Goat meat is termed either cabrito or chevon, depending on the goat's age at harvest.

The meat is unique in flavor and palatability. It is leaner than many other red meats and usually less tender, it is also very low in fat and cholesterol.